Little girl with your mother gone, so afraid nobody to tell She's going through changes
Treating him don't mean a thing he don't trust you girl He's going through changes yeah
When you're all alone nobody to lean on don't think so heavy You're going through changes baby

It's just a little love, just a little hope
To fall down beside of you, and man you're flying Just a little love, when a far wind blows, just to pick you
up
Man you're flying, say yeah
You're flying yeah

Damn the world says the man who can't see his own kid He's going through changes How ironic that we used to be friends but right now girl we can't even pretend We're going through changes

When the man inside don't even know how to react, i'll tell you something baby He's going through changes lately

It's just a little love, just a little hope
A little rail wind blowing, man you're flying
Just a little love, when a far wind blows, just to pick you
up
I said man you're flying, say yeah
Flying yeah

Mary you know you're life is so courageous It's put upon you and the words you know And you just cannot define the love you got inside of you
You know it's a strong wind holding you up

Just a little love, a little life
Fall down inside of you, and man you're flying

Just a little love, when a far wind blows, just to pick you
up
Say man you're flying

Oh it's just a little life, oh just a little life
To fall down beside of you, man you're flying
Just a little love, when a far wind blows, just to pick you
up
I said man you're flying, flying yeah.

Thanks to Ash
