Still got shades of your heart left in my soul
I'm struggling to let this love go
I stole the taste of your lips left in my mouth
I know you more than anyone could know

My eyes are on you woman but I'm a runaway train
Heading for the distance and I'm losing my way
Stone me, Stone me 'til I feel again

There's nothing you can do
I've already started, started, started
To unwrite every song I ever wrote about you
And as you lie to my heart, my heart, my heart lies there bleeding, bleeding
But as the wounds heal it makes this thing so damned easy

My eyes are on you woman but I'm a runaway train
Heading for the distance and I can breathe again
My thoughts are with you woman but I'm a runaway train
Heading for the distance and I'm losing my way
Stone me, Stone me 'til I feel again

My heart is beating like a drum
Though I know I'll carry on It's getting harder everyday
Though I feel my every pain
I know soon I'll breathe right in
I will never walk this path again

Stone me, Stone me 'til I feel again

My eyes are on you woman but I'm a runaway train
Heading for the distance and I can breathe again
Stone me, Stone me 'til I breathe again

My eyes are on you woman but I'm a runaway train
Heading for the distance and I'm losing my way
Stone me, Stone me 'til I feel again
