Sunday morning
I was that child who held onto every story
And if you'd asked me then as now
What God was all about, I'd say

He's something deep, something holy
All my life God has shown me
Something real I cannot explain
A love so beautiful, I cannot turn away

Older and wiser
I've been to school enough by now
To know the right words
And tell the world just who God is
But all I've found is this

He's something deep, something holy
All my life God has shown me
Something real I cannot explain
A love so beautiful, I cannot turn away

It's a love so beautiful, who could ever turn away?

It's a love so beautiful, I cannot turn away
Cannot turn away
