I feel like I've been left for dead
Conversations in my head
There's something missing from this game
The animal's quiet and tame
So tell me can you believe
I'm dying of harmony

Everything feels strange
Aching for a change
My senses come to life
Enough for trouble and strife

Strangers
And now
I'm walking out the door
To places never seen before
The little sparkle in the eyes
Full of surprise

As soon as everything is grand (I'm feeling so much better)
I'm reaching for someone else's hand

Tell me what's a man to do?
A weakling through and through
All that nature gave to me
I'm gonna set free

Strangers
And now I'm walking out the door
To places never seen before
Don't give me "insecurity"
Cos no one loves me more than me

You feel real fine, you've got your life on the line
But all the people that you know are only wasting your time
So take a fall through a hole in a wall and that's all Delivering promises I can keep so won't you give me a call

Well everything feels strange
Aching for a change
My senses spring to life
Enough of trouble and strife

Strangers
And now
I'm walking out the door
To places never seen before
The little sparkle in the eyes
Full of surprise
Giving everyone a try
Every girl alive
Don't give me "insecurity"
Cos no one loves me more than me

Living with me should have been easy
