It didn't mean that much to me
I never wanted to believe
You were taking me to heaven
You couldn't know I didn't say
That I was staying here to play
But I'll remember you forever

I can see the future in your eyes
This was everything you fantasized

This has been the best time of your life

But just another little piece of mine

You tried and tried
To be good for me
I froze you cold, down to the bone
You cried, I lied
And I hate myself
It's time to just leave you alone

Nice try, but no cigar
Who ever thought we'd come this far
