We fell so far from home
Conscious of all the questions you will never ask
I'll wait and see if you can ever reach a different ending
I'm holding my breath, and we don't have long

But we are okay
Tonight is the only thing that matters
It's everything you've ever wanted
But we are okay
And even as the world dissolves around us
We'll sit inside and watch it all come down
Don't worry babe, we can work it out

What have they done?
Is this the only choice for us to completely give in How could this happen?
For all we know
This could have all been planned a long time ago
So why be alone? We won't be alone

But we are okay
Tonight is the only thing that matters
It's everything you've ever wanted.
But we are okay
And even as the world dissolves around us
We'll sit inside and watch it all come down

Let the tide walk alone
Rely on no one to pull it in
Did you think that it would be different?
So did I

But we are okay
Tonight is the only thing that matters
It's everything you've ever wanted
But we are okay
And even as the world dissolves around us
We'll sit inside and watch it all come down

Even as the world dissolves around us
We will watch it all come down
