Why does this man
Defy the storm and burns us all
Each time his head waves
The sun, it sets on lonely graves
Haven't we read this page before
We're gonna lose the war
What kind of God is that
Nothing will be the same
This is the world he wants
Prayed for the brave and the young
And won't bring them back again
Sadness, you know that it reins supreme
And suffocates our only dream
Lovebirds sing here, they've flown away
They didn't even say, when they would be back again
Will they come back again
Unleash the hounds of hell
Weather be fury wind
Hidden inside his storm
This is the world he wants
Prayed for the brave and the young
He knows that they're not coming home
Now, do you ever get the feeling, get the feeling
This is the world that he wants
You ever get the feeling, ever get the feeling
This is the world that he wants (3x)
