Sidewalks and street lights
You're clutching your suitcase
I'm fighting with broken eyes
We'll take the long way home

Your kisses and goodbyes
Are leaving my lips numb
I'm jealous of headlights
'Cause they're all that clings to you

I pray that our shoes
Melt in the pavement
We stepped back slowly
And I'll take the long way home

Just one more time
You're the light that I saw

Just one more time
You're the light that I saw

Sidewalks and street lights
You're clutching your suitcase
I'm fighting with broken eyes
We'll take the long way home

Just one more time
You're the light that I saw

Just one more time
You're the light that I saw
