Hard times done creeped up in my home and I'm standing all alone

Can't break. Won't cry. I try to stay strong, but my back's against the wall, think I'm gonna fall.

And Mr. Powerman is turning off my lights

I hear my baby crying and gunshots in the night

My car got gas bills bigger than the note

Got my degree, but I can barely stay afloat

Living check to check

Living check to check

Staying straight, keeping right but my pocket's empty

Living check to check

Living check to check

No I won't lose sight, but the streets are tempting me

Oh Lord, please send an angel down to me

Dear Lord, please send an angel

I know I ain't the only one who tryin to get by Looking for the brighter days just like mama said

Could lose it but I won't I'm gonna hold my head high, cause I know these ends will meet

I gotta find my way

It's my reality another says insane

That man is wasting while I'm sitting counting change

Won't lie up on my back though just to make a dime

Send an angel to me Lord

I need a little peace of mind

Living check to check

Living check to check

Staying straight, keeping right but my pocket's empty

Living check to check

Living check to check

No I won't lose sight, but the streets are tempting me

Oh Lord, please send an angel down to me

Dear Lord, please send an angel

I need to feed my babies, still gotta pay the rent

Ain't even cashed my check and yet bills got my money spent

Maybe I'll ask my neighbors or pawn this damn tv

What I really need right now is God to send an angel to me

Oh Lord, please send an angel down to me

Dear Lord, please send an angel

Oh Lord, please send an angel down to me (Oh Lord.
Yes Lord send your angels down)

Dear Lord, please send an angel (Because I'm living check to check)

Living check to check

Living check to check

Staying straight, keeping right but my pocket's empty

Living check to check

Living check to check

No I won't lose sight, but the streets are tempting me
