Tell me what you think of me.
I'm running out of patience and you've got to let me know.
Is this the real thing,
When you tell me that I'm dreaming it's like a chokehold on my soul.

And all I had,
Was a chance to leave you stranded in this place again.
You could be mine,
We've been seeing each other every night.
And I'll be yours forever.
Truth and lies clash inside your mind.
And leaves me feeling emptiness inside.

As you turn away,
I'm hopelessly pretending that the words you say aren't true.
Don't make a big mistake.
Promise that you'll listen to the words I sing to you.

And while you slept,
They stole your mind and left you by yourself again.

You could be mine,
We've been seeing each other every night.
And I'll be yours forever.
Truth and lies clash inside your mind.
And leaves me feeling emptiness inside.

And all I had,
Was a chance to leave you stranded in this place again.
You could be mine,
We've been seeing each other every night.
And I'll be yours forever.
Truth and lies clash inside your mind.
And leaves me feeling emptiness inside.

And I'll be yours forever.
