Wait just one minute more,
I can see that you're in a hurry.
I just need the courage to say,
That without you I am lonely.

One man, is all that I am,
So please don't expect much from me.
Just grant me this one single wish,
To remain apart of your existance.

You know that I can see,
Past your eyes into your uncertainty.
It's all right, let's spend one more night,
And remember as it used to be.

But this time, it will be different.
For now I know who I am.
I know we just met.
Please don't go just yet.
It's beginning to feel like it's meant to be.

One man, is all that I am,
So please don't expect much from me.
Just grant me this one single wish,
To remain apart of your existance.
