Weve been goin steady now for such a long time
& up until now, everything was just fine
You say you still love me, but it's not the same
It so plain to see that you're playin a game

CHORUS

You really know how to hurt a guy
You really know how to make me cry
You really know how to hurt a guy
But what a mean way to say goodbye

Every time you hurt me, it seems like you planned it
I've talked to your friends, but they don't understand it
Where did I lose it? What did I do wrong?
We can't break it up now; it's lasted so long

If you'd look at me, you'd see tears in my eyes
When were together & you're lookin at other guys
The ones that you like are really not your kind
I know their type & what's on their minds
