Time - time changes everything
Time heals all your wounds
A broken heart will heal
Time - time changes every thought
Time changes every point of view
You will see things in a different light
Fears - will be forgotten soon
Will be forgotten totally
Your mind will be cleaned up
You will see the sun again
You will feel it's warmth again
Smiling people in the crowd
Talking to you, hear their sound
Time - time changes everything
Time changes even friend and foe
You will see them from a different side
Tears - will seep away real soon
Will wash away your misery
Your sigh will fade away
