Back to the future where we live
Making up ideas about where to go next
And of all this other mess, well
It does not concern me, 'cause

Time is not a factor when you consider what's going on
If you ever do
No time to react by the hour it hits your head
Can't find what to do
Back to the end

Of the start where it all began

Find out what went wrong, ask for the truth
Maybe it'll lead to you or me
What's right or wrong, what's here or what's gone
Well, anyway

Time is not a factor when you consider what's going on
If you ever do
No time to react by the hour it hits your head
Can't find what to do
Back to the end
