Some people got it, others don't care
Some live without it, some learn to share

Some may be happy, still others are blue
This feeling I get loving you

Just look around you, what do you see
Confusion surrounds you, lonely but free

There's nothing that scares me, except for the truth
This feeling I get loving you

Comes around goes around, I've seen it before
Living right does it, but there's so much more

Some may be happy, while others are blue
This feeling I get loving you
It's not a perfect world, strange though it seems
Lost in a fantasy, of infinite dreams

I should have tried, I could have died
All that I did was for me and I mean just for me

The concept is crazy, then so am I
Never too lazy, to give it a try

There's nothing that scares me, except for the truth
This feeling I get loving you
Loving you, loving you.
