Turn back the hands of time, let me try to do it all again
Please give me the time for I have lost the time to know where I have been

To ride the oceans, fly the wind
To have the reason to do it all again

Remember how all that time meant

Turn back the hands of time, let me try to realign my mind
Please give me the time for I have lost the time to know who I have been

To ride the oceans, fly the wind
To climb the mountains, to do it all again

Remember how all that time meant
Finish your dreams, don't wake in between again

Turn back the hands of time, let me try to do it all again Please give me the time, for I have lost the time to know where I have been

To ride the oceans, fly the wind
To have the reasons to do it all again

Remember how all that time meant

Finish your dreams, don't wake in between again

Remember how all that time meant.
