"Solid Ground"

I'm never gonna hurt you
Lose faith and then desert you
I'll never ever leave you alone

When you quit chasing rainbows
Stop caring where the train goes
I'll be right there to bring you back home

And I will save you
From all that haunts you

I will be your solid ground
The safe harbor you never found
I will be your heart reborn
The shelter in your endless storm

It seems like such a long while
Since I have seen your sweet smile
Now even when you're here you seem gone

When life comes crashing at you
You have someone to catch you
To hold you till you stand on your own

Yes I will save you
From all that haunts you

I've watched you stumble
Breakdown and crumble
What more can I say

I'll be beside you
Heal what's inside you
Don't turn me away
