Are you married
Are you involved with another person
Do you live alone
I want to think about you
No one comes to my house
I take care of all the things
I need to kill those squirrels running around in the top of my head
You shouldn't have come here
It's the place where I live
You eat electricity
You burn down the house
So I forgot to kill you
Go away and fall down dead

And when you're all gone
I'll live in peace in a house that's not burned down
You can be my princess
Everything's clear and clean and I like the temperature
I turned it down to slow burn
