All I do all day and all night I think of you
Every waking hour, at night I dream about you

Thoughts of you keep running through my mind
You haunt me like a song I can't forget
I'm on a carousel

In endless circles, always coming back to you
I wonder if you ever think about me too

The more I tell myself to stop, the more I do
It's getting to the point, I know, what can I do
I live and breathe and all I do is think of you

When I close my eyes I see your picture in my head
I feel your touch and taste a thousand kisses

Open up a book a to read, on every page I see
Your name in black and white
No matter how I try

It covers me like a blanket, wrap myself in you
I hold it close when it's cold outside, I'm warm in you

The more I tell myself to stop, the more I do
It's getting to the point, I know, what can I do
I live and breathe and all I do is think of you

Time stood still and I won't be the same
I can't go on like this, I'm calling out your name
What can I do
I live and breathe and all I do is think of you
