It wasn't particularly gracious
Of me to leave, but I found
The situation unbearably ostentatious
With you and her flirtatious
Had it been any other night
I might have stayed and put up a fight
I guess I wasn't impressed with your seduction

It wasn't an unlikely conclusion
For me to draw when I saw
You and her in some obvious love seclusion
Please pardon my intrusion
Had you said something too profound
I might have hung in and stood my ground
I guess I just wasn't digging our illusion

If you think I didn't see
I got news for you
If you think you're fooling me
I got news for you

It wasn't an irrational notion
That made me take the walk 'cause
I'm not inclined towards unwarranted commotion
Unnecessary motion
Had I thought you were some excuse
I might have stayed and turned on the juice
I guess I just felt a lack of real emotion

If you think I didn't see
I got news for you
If you think you're fooling me
I got news for you.
