"Honey Bee"

Everyone has their own story
You have yours I have mine
Today mine happens to be about a...
A yellow dress
And behind the yellow dress
Lies a warm and beating heart
That longs to tell a story
Of which we are all a part

Oh oh oh I love these things
So these things shall I bee

The honey bee
It has taken me so long to get up to speed
A loooooonnggggg winter
But the sun is slowly warming me
And ssssooo here I go towards the garden of love

Oh oh oh I love these things
So these things shall I bee

The garden of love I can see it now
I am meandering as fast as I can
Want to sip the nectar
I am making my way back to where I belong

Oh oh oh I love these things
So these things shall I bee

And when I lay me down to sleep
In my flowery keep
The moon upon my face
I dream of bowls of milk

Sailin' towards a sea of
Roses
