I was standing in the shower thinking about what makes a man
An outlaw or a leader, I'm thinking about power
The ways a man could use it or be destroyed by it
The water hits my neck and I'm pissing on myself

Standing in the shower thinking

Standing in the shower thinking about a man I know don't like me
He don't like the place I'm headed same place he's headed
I know he'd beat me to it if he could but he won't do it
But he would man if he could

And the water is piping hot, the water is piping hot
It beats upon my neck and I'm pissing on myself
Standing in the shower thinking

[Incomprehensible]

Standing in the shower thinking is my woman afraid of me?
She's seen how far I've twisted it's just 'cause I can trust her
And ever since we met she understood and so she let Me twist her good I twist her good

And the water is piping hot, the water is piping hot
It beats upon my neck and I'm pissing on myself

The water is piping hot, the water is piping hot
The water is piping hot, the water is piping hot
