The class of '92
A perfect schoolbook example,
Of friends encouraging themselves,
To contribute, to adolescence
Just another generation of Ultra-violent disturbed kids
Guess we had it all
And knew life wasn't meant to be
Dark and heavy
Another year no draft left
But instead of left field
We'll do our own headlocks
Planet of sound or Mark's backyard

As time went by as time lingered on
As the sonic fireworks faded
As time went by we knew it wasn't gonna last
And tonight might be our all state final

We weren't head of the class
Just wild-eyed boys with foul tactics
The speaker warping power cranking up,
Our college rock mantras
Made no  and  about it
We knew we outcooled all our highschool teenage rivals
V8 engines, mighty monsters

As time went by as time lingered on
As the sonic fireworks faded
As time went by we knew it wasn't gonna last
And tonight might be our all state final

As time went by as time lingered on,
As the sonic fireworks faded
As time went by we knew it wouldn't be long
Untill we we'd be playing our all-state final
All-state final
All-state final

As time went by
