

Janez Detd

"Death Alone"

Visit "Death Alone" on MotoLyrics.com

Death alone from death can save. A man he came and walked with him. A neon light, a hopeless fight, a cry for help that wasn't heard. The fear of the dark is tearing me apart.

Through shades of grey beneath the wave of life, I
know you're there for me, you're there for me:

You still support me through me fears, the silence marks your tenderness. A sheer whisper's all there's left, the memories on which I feed. The fear of the dark is tearing me apart.

Through shades of grey beneath the wave of life, I know you're there for me, you're there for me: And as I too long for days filled with rest just to be close to you.
So close to you:

Death alone from death can save. Love is death and so is brave.

Through shades of grey beneath the wave of life, I know you're there for me, you're there for me: And as I
too long for days filled with rest just to be close to you.
So close to you:

Visit Janez Detd page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.