You're killing me! I like to take the bullet now. I'd like to meet the end and leave the terror far behind The screams, the ruined nights and as walls crash down, as stars explode, the moon burns up inside my head. I'd give up all just to be close to you for one more night. You're killing me. I'm tired and weak. I hide behind a bitter ache.

You're killing me. I'm so afraid to be alone, but you're killing me.

I turned my back and now it's scared, I trusted you and opened up and now your name's like death, covered in black, I do regret. Always waiting for your breath, it never came your heart, like ice, my nightmare just begun. It clouds my head. My blood, it burns.

You're killing me. I'm tired and weak. I hide behind the bitter ache.

You're killing me. I'm so afraid to be alone, but you're killing me.

Feel how we fade and designate into a strange and lonely day [4x]
