Virtually alone right now, never will you have. Waged your life in such, Isolation.
Never have so many of your friends been so opposed.
Never have provoked so much, opposition.

Your lack of shame comes naturally. You turned my heart into my enemy. That's why you're really scaring me.

Resentment and mistrust and all of this before. One single word was said. Did you listen? No. Watching and laughing away, the tumult in our world. Spitting insults all this time. I've reached to turning point.

Your lack of shame comes naturally. You turned my heart into my enemy. That's why you're really scaring me.
