I'll spend my life being loving and true
I'll spend my life changing old dreams for new
I'll spend my life proving all my devotion to you

All my devotion, each tender emotion
Is yours, my love
Each fond caress, filled with sweet tenderness
Speaks to you, my love

Skies would be grey without stars in the blue
If I had treasures but could not have you
Love me forever and ever again
Will I wander?

My deep devotion resembles an ocean
That sees the shore
Searching a haven, a heart that is laden
Forever more

I'll spend my life being loving and true
I'll spend my life changing old dreams for new
I'll spend my life proving all my devotion to you
(To you, to you)
