To hold your hand
To understand
To mend each dream that's torn
To string along
When things go wrong
That's why I was born

To hold you tight
All through the night
Watch over you 'til morn'
To always race
To your embrace
That's why I was born

We'll always be together
In the wind, in the rain, in the sun
Our love will last forever
And forever has just now begun

To always be yours faithfully
'Til Gabriel blows his horn
To always kiss your lips like this
That's why I was born
