You can do it, I know you can
I know you will
You can make it, I know you can
Get up the hill

You can be anyone you want
Just close your eyes
You can picture a perfect day
Inside your mind

You've gotta pull your head up
Stand your ground and face it all

You gotta hold your heart out to the universe

If you believe in who you are my shining star
If you believe in who you are my shining star

Are you weary
All of you on your own
Listen clearly
Follow you voice back home
All you broken
All of you without love
You'll be fine you'll
See when the morning comes

You've gotta hold you're head up
Throw your shoulders through the wall
You've gotta count your blessings
Count your lucky days
You'll never know unless you try until you risk it all

If you believe in who you are my shining star

Are you weary
All of you on your own
Listen clearly
Follow you voice back home
All you broken
All of you with

You'll be fine you'll
See when the morning comes

Are you weary
All of you on your own
Listen clearly
Follow you voice back home
[Fades out]
All you broken
All of you with
You'll be fine you'll
