How long will I travel
In this carousel of drowned dreams
Every time when I'm down
I come up with more
More bad and sad executions

And when happiness
Tries to turn the light on
I'm just too trashed
To keep up with the fight

I know that my mission
In life is to succeed
And to get up with the greatest benefits
But what if you just seem to be satisfied
When you are around the ones you love

No more shall I travel
In the lands of unpleasantness
I'm going to harvest the treasures

Where have you been
Together as friends
Or shattered as the many goodbyes

This note is for you
You know who you are
It's the person you see
When you look in the mirror

Watch me laying in the attic
Watch me hanging
From the top of the tree
Watch me change my ways
Watch me change
