Every time I see your face and the world seems a light of anew
And it's more than enough just to be in the same lifetime with you
Cause it feels like early Christmas morning
Each time I look in your eyes
Your face I can picture clearly, everytime that I closed my eyes

Coz you. You are to me
More than my everything
Light of my life
For you.you are to me
More than my everything
You are my reason to live

Time and time, I tried to find but there's nothing but you not to love
You alone reason enough to believe there's someone up above
When it feels like heaven just to hold never want to let you go

Tell me I can stay beside you I would give a part of my own

Coz you. You are to me
More than my everything
Light of my life
For you.you are to me
More than my everything
You are my reason

No you, you keep me hold Strengthen my soul
You are the meaning to all things I know
You keep me real
You make me feel that I'm never alone

You, you are to me
More than my everything
Light of my life

For you, you are to me
More than my everything
