We cannot wait for another day
When all is lost without you
I'll find a way as it manifests, showing us another way
Everything sets it off including you
Breaking down what is left fighting through

Forever sadness that you gave me
I'll keep it with thoughts of you

Facing your biggest fear tonight
Losing your best friend tonight
It will happen to you in due time

You never stopped to shed one drop of blood for me
One drop for me

The passing of it all, the changing air
The last thing I felt, was it you
The rush of it all
Is gone
