

Japunga "A Hundred Years"

Visit "A Hundred Years" on MotoLyrics.com

Every night I think of you
When you're here it makes me feel
I'm alive, I'm alive

As you move away from me
A last goodbye I don't want you
To go, you to go

No matter where you're from
No matter what you've done
You can have it you can take it
But you can't have me always

Time changes in front of us
A hundred years look at the things
You have done, you have done

Lights fading I cannot see
Look ahead tell me is anyone
Out there, out there

No matter where you're from
No matter what you've done
You can have it you can take it
But you can't have me always

No matter where you've gone
No matter who was wrong
You can have it you can't take it
Now we can have it always

Always

Visit Japunga page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.