Pictures of bygones remained
The smell of winter nights
As life used to stand still in our hearts

Colours run out
Time will pass
The point of sadness
And as I fall
I leave you behind - forever

Chorus:
There was a time we ceased to speak
There was no time to say goodbye
So many letters left to read
You keep yours and I keep mine
It's over now

Look at us now
Watch our promises fade in the wind
These words I long to forget
Your face
