I love the way
I love the way you carry on
You make me wanna say
You make me wanna sing another love song

Sing another love song
Sing another love song
Sing another love song, to you

Bury my head for the shame
You pick me up, you say I look like you
Though it makes no sense to me
You make me believe that I could trust someone

That I could ever trust someone
I could ever trust someone
I could ever trust someone
I could ever trust someone

Sing another love song
Sing another love song
Sing another love song
Sing another love song

I walk through the flame, I touch the fire
You know that I still burn for you
Flood water rain crash down, soak the ground
Still I thirst for you, still I thirst for you

Sing another love song
Sing another love song
Though it makes no sense to me
You make me wanna sing
Make me wanna sing

Yeah, yeah, sing another love song
Sing another love song
Sing another love song
I just wanna trust someone
