She was born in Russia many years ago
She grew young with eyes so beautiful
She became a danger to the holy church
She was made a bitch and a witch

Chorus:

No religion without blood
In the burning name of God
And a million people sacrificed their lives
Does it echo far away
When a million voices pray
Wonder why we're still crying

She was young in Russia many years ago
I still see her eyes
I still hear her cries

Chorus:

No religion without blood
In the burning name of God
And a million people sacrificed their lives
Does it echo far away
When a million voices pray
Wonder why we're still crying

Outro:

How can we live how can we love
Why should we beg why should we trust
