Let it go Let it go
I can't do much anymore
I don't know what's with me,
I don't even know whos on my side.....
Of this challaening life

I've tried to get the world to believe I was normal I've cried my eyes out now since You've turned around and changed your mind
And left me with the world against me
I thought I knew you
I thought we could be come real

It's difficult to get someone to understand the reason why I feel So wrapped up in myself and hurt inside,
I can't let it go Now you've turned around
And left me with the world against me

I wannabe happy
I wannabe loved cuz I am who I am unlike some people
The hardest thing in this world is to live in it can't you see do something for yourself
I can't let it go You've Broke my heart
and left me with the world against me
you never really cared did you?
You never thought of me unless I was with you

So many emotions inside, I'm going crazy

I've tried to much I've thought to hard I've cried my eyes out now you've turned around to someone else
And changed your mind and left me with the world against me
