Lucky day
The windows glitter and the walls are bare
But you never fade
Follow you forever if I could
I'd try
I can't hate who I am if i love who I'm with
And you'll fly
It's a beautiful light fire, it's a beautiful life

So shine
We'll wake up underneath
The sky
We're crazy but that's how we need it
We the same star, no matter how far
We're the same star, no matter how far

You walk there
A place in my heart and no one knows about
But you've already been here
Remembered you before I even knew your name

You'll try
You can't hate who you are if you love who your with You'll fly
It's a beautiful light fire, beautiful life so
Shine
We'll wake up underneath
The sky
We're crazy but that's how we need it
We're the same star, no matter how far
We're the same star, no matter how far

Ooh, I want to breathe the air from your lips
From your mouth into mine
Ooh, I want to steal the pages from your notebook
From your fingers into my eyes

Can you show me how to do that?
Can you show me how to do that?
Can you show me how to do that?
Can you show me how to do that?
Can you show me how to do that?

Can you show me how to do that?
Can you show me how to do that?

So, shine
We'll wake up underneath
The sky
We're crazy but that's how we need it
We're the same star, no matter how far
We're the same star, no matter how far
We're the same star, no matter how far
We're the same star, no matter how far
How far you are.
