before you came
i wasn't who i am now it's amazing when you can look at yourself and find a big change

before you came
i was silent but now i'm loud before i knew you
i decided to move to a different world but then it seemed wrong so i waited and there came you

before you came
before i knew you
without passport you know childrens minds they play tricks and play games with older people sometime's i try to hide from the scene but i end up always in a scene i'm always none as the one left on it's own

before you came.
