I pretend when i don't feel a thing for you baby i wanna hold you until the day i die i hope my life is younge forever i hope that this won't be the end cause my intire life has been extrodinary i've learned so much and i am so delighted that i have learned lots of lesssons in this world life is journey and so many things in my life have not been the same as they were many years ago i wanna live over a thousand years i wanna stay this way forever but i don't think i'll be this way ..for ages when i grow old who will i become? sometime's i just can imagine and forget what i thought i might be in ten million years i hope to still be this way will i have another life will i stil be in this life my life is so beautiful how can i be strong without friends and family they make me speical they hold me until i heal all the pain and i get strong... when i grow who will i become sometime's i just never know who i am ...

so many things in my life
have not been the same
oh though it's been a huge change so many words i can't say so many things i want to change so many things i'd have to come true i wanna stand far away i wanna life like everyone wants and right now i have the dream i wanted to be real... never hoped soon enough it'll be here already' my dreams were chased i made them come true and didn't listen to what others think...
