I helped you in every way i can i gave you the best strength i ever had I keep you strong and i just watched what was going on it was a hard thing to keep on going when i am in a dark place their came you in my life you just become my best friend so soon i couldn't believe i helped you and held you at the same time i gave you the best i could isn't that better then having no family you have enough chances to still live how many times have you survived cause of me i helped you i held you i gave you strength now can you thank me by this song well all ii gotta say is i love you and won't let you disappear...

(i helped you)
