I believe no body is the best i wish people would just get a life and just leave other people alone i was standing their did nothing wrong someone yelled in my face it was hard but i managed i was lucky i had lots of strength

I believe nobody takes notice in what people are like inside the first thing i look at when i met somebody is who they are and where they come from sometime's i wish i was beautiful as well as seen but msot of the times i jsut love to be who i am i am beautiful in my own ways

I wish somebody would actall listen to what i say i believe nobody cares about other people they only care about theirself i've been through so many bad days it's hard to control my life i tel you to stop listen leave me alone they never listen.
