it's just another day-lyrics

it's just another day I feel this way it's just another day where I cry and scream and shout it's just another day where I feel like hell just another day where I am a little depressed if you only knew the pain I am going through my life would be alot better then now just a nother day where I feel I am lost without you just a nother day to learn what I need to know It's just another day where I feel like I come from hell it's just another day like any other day day after day it never ends...

Oh yeah

just another day where I feel I need to run away without feeling like predictable I wanna be reliable I wanna know what I see just another day...ohhh Just another day where I can do what I want It's just another day

just another day where I am a little depressed
my life would be alot better then now.
