You promised me you'd give me the last chance and then when i arrived it was the word no said no chance left it's no fun without chance's put all the anger behind and just give me the chance to show you who i really am you'll never believe the true person that i am i am this girl who like's to sing song wright tell life storys and enjoys loving family i just love them too much it's like i'm always welcome into their life

how can that be?
that couldn't be true you'd be amazed how i am right now i'm all the sundern changed and i'd like my chance back donot say no chance left cause that'll break my dear heart i wanna keep this feeling forever and never let the chance throwen away just let me say i am a girl who loves to sing song wright enjoys family and just loving being speical ..it's like one of everybody's dream.....
