nobody listened
when i was crying they thought i was cause i was upset about something but truly i was upset about there not listening

nobody listens to me
nobody wants me around not a single emotions instink insides says they really do i just imagine they don't is it me is it them nothing on this earth is so so precious i mean mum dad that's it nothing is on my mind that's imporent feel free to escape the fear but you go through it no matter what you can't run from life you stuck in this life you here with me

no one listens to me
nobody understood nobody watched me and loved my performance oh this is not really a true story but it's all in my mind i know nobody listens
