Remember when i said to you that all i wanted to be was me and all i wanted was you to be happy well baby that just yet might come true all the things i've been through must be in the past i must forget i don't want to regret i just want to forget i hope you see why this has to be the truth i need more time to give myself something for once

that all i wanted was something i could feel excited about feelings in life go bad , in my life today i can be strange, i can be weird i can be all theses things you don't understand i'm mixed up i'm feeling sometimes disapointed in myself i'm feeling so loney even though i have everything everyone wants there's just something missing there my baby

siting under a cloud full of lie's must never regret just forget only siting under a cloud full of turth must never lie just tell the truth it's always backwards,forwards for me my baby you must remember what i said this time.
