spread out your wings
and just think cool
you could fly a hundred miles you could stand between me and my relationship you could just make things better than i thought you could make something unreal in life your wings are beautiful and you should just think cool don't think nective if you stand in my way i could get mad

but your so preiocus it's hard to explain you one thing that make's me look beautiful so i thank you.....

and i watch you fly as i walk by do you know what i am saying?
do you know what i am saying ???????? do you know what this means????????? do you know where i am standing now?

i try to love
i try to learn
i try to take each step slowly i try to make a huge change happen

i try to love
i try to make a huge change spread out your preicous wings

and just think cool
cause you could stand a hudred miles
you could stand between me and my relationship you just could have so much freedom.. you have so many choices you have alot to give..and you have so much to do
