Of Whats Behind You

I know this time can be frightening but you gotta try your best and think of whats behind you never give up keep one thing on your mind and thats to keep your strength up

no closing doors ! more like open doors then what I just said couldn't live a day without knowing your alive your the one I count on being here til the day I die if I found you were gone I wonder how lost I would feel would I be still the girl I am now?? no you no me! thats how it goes not always but for now yeah you always make me laugh even though your not here I think of you in a nice way! with you I feel speical without you I don't know like I do with you

no closing doors ! more like open doors
then what I just said
couldn't live another day without knowing your alive gotta be strong and know that everything will be just right

I know this time can be frightening but

nothing I know is like you! your like a world to me forever and always

don't go backwards always begin with forwards.
