You're what keeps the stars hung up in the sky
You're what keeps the rivers from running dry
You're what makes my heart go and skip a beat
When you are inches away from me
There ain't no reason, there ain't no rhyme
But still it happens every single time
When we say , nothing at all
Cause your kiss is so natural

Our first touch was like, wild fire
Too hard standing on a highwire
Too young to know what's right
But too much in love to try to fight it
You're what keeps the stars hung up in the sky
You're what keeps the rivers from running dry
You're what makes my heart go and skip a beat
When you are inches away from me
There ain't no reason, there ain't no rhyme
But still it happens every single time
When we say nothing at all
Cause your kiss is so natural

Oh, no, no
Cause your kiss is so natural
Oh, no
Cause you're kiss is so natural
Oh, oh
Cause you're kiss is so natural
