Waiting for the world to come home
Everybody's gone, I'm here all alone
Waiting for the world to come home

Waiting for the world to come knocking on my door
Just like it did before I'm waiting for the world to be born
Free from this shadow I want to be lost no more
I'm waiting for the world to be born

Waiting for you to come break my heart
'Cause I can't feel anything and it falls apart
I know that sounds tired but it's true
Waiting for the world to come back with you

Waiting for the world to come knocking on my door
Just like it did before I'm waiting for the world
Waiting for the world, waiting for the world
Waiting for the world to come home
